

COMPARE AND CONTRAST

It is necessary to compare and contrast information in order to make decisions and think critically.

The newspaper often reports information in a different way than television news programs and Internet news sites.

Select, read, and cut out from the newspaper one national or international news story. Watch the television news or visit <www.cnn.com> on the Internet for coverage about the same story. Fill in the Venn Diagram to compare (if the same) and contrast (if different) the information given in these 2 news presentations.
